PROF. EBERS' GREAT WORK.

E YPT:

Descriptive, Historical, and Picturesque.

By Prof. G. EBERS.

Translated by CLARA BELL, with Notes and Introduction by SAMUEL BIRCH, LL.D., D.C.L., F.S.A., Keeper of the Oriental Antiquities, British Museum. Illustrated with a series of about 800 ORIGINAL ILLUSTRATIONS by L. ALMA TADEMA, R.A., HANS MAKART, W. GENTZ, and other well-known Artists.

The Two Volumes, in which this splendid Work is completed, are published at £2 5s. and £2 12s. 6d. respectively, or £4 17s. 6d. the set.

"Of all the various works on Egyptology that have come forth from the press, none can compare with Professor Ebers' splendid historical description of Egypt. Whether we regard the splendour of the type, or the exquisite finish of the numerous plates, both large and small, this work, which does so much credit to its publishers, may be said to stand unrivalled in its peculiar line."—Record.

THE ENCYCLOPAEDIC DICTIONARY.

The TIMES, in a recent issue, remarked:—
"As its title shows, it is professedly both an encyclopaedia and a dictionary; it explains things as well as words, and thus the author has ample scope to produce a work of immense utility. . . . The 'Encyclopaedic Dictionary' promises to take a high place as a reference book. . . . On every part of the work the greatest and most conscientious care has been bestowed. Mr. Hunter has had the assistance of specialists in the technical part of the work, and the authorities he has obtained to assist him have almost always been the best obtainable. There are abundance of illustrative quotations, and the etymology is scientific and trustworthy. The illustrations are always appropriate and clear, and the printing of the work is excellent. It ought to become a favourite reference book."

THE LAST PUNIC WAR.

TUNIS, PAST and PRESENT. With a Narrative of the French Conquest of the Regency. By A. M. BROADLEY, Correspondent of the "Times" during the War in Tunis. With numerous Illustrations and Maps. 2 vols., post 8vo, 25s.

"Mr. Broadley has had peculiar facilities in collecting materials for his volumes. Possessing a thorough knowledge of Arabic, he has for years acted as confidential adviser to the Bey. . . . The information which he is able to place before the reader is novel and amusing. . . . A standard work on Tunis has been long required. This deficiency has been admirably supplied by the author."—Morning Post.

"The story is told for the first time in all its details in these two very attractive volumes. . . . We may conclude by strongly recommending Mr. Broadley's book as one of very peculiar interest at the present time, not only to those who would know the true history of the annexation of Tunis by the French Republic, but to those who study the process of events in North Africa."—London Evening News.

"He keeps steadily to what is of permanent interest in the events of which he was a witness, and has brought a careful study of the past to throw light on the present."—St. James's Gazette.

"In Mr. Broadley's skilful hands the tale of Tunis becomes as attractive as a romance."—Whitehall Review.

MEMOIR OF THE HONOURABLE

GEORGE KEITH ELPHINSTONE, K.B., Viscount Keith, Admiral of the Red. By ALEXANDER ALLARDYCE, Author of "The City of Sunshine," &c. 8vo, with Portrait, Illustrations, and Maps, 21s.

SUMMARY OF CONTENTS: The American War—The Capture of Charleston—The Descent upon Toulon—The Cape Expedition—The Capture of the Dutch Fleet—The Nore and Plymouth Mutinies—The Pursuit of Admiral Bruix—The Burning of the "Queen Charlotte"—The Blockade of Genoa—The Landing at Aboukir—The French Evacuation of Egypt—The Threatened Invasion—The Surrender of Buonaparte.

THE REVOLT OF MAN. By Walter BESANT. New and Cheaper Edition. Crown 8vo, 3s. 6d.

"It is a happy idea well worked out, and must rank amongst the best literary confections of its kind."—Athenaeum.

"The anonymous author of the satirical romance before us has achieved a very remarkable success. . . . The book, as a whole, ought to be read by everybody who has the wit to appreciate it, with a great deal of pleasure and amusement."—Saturday Review.

"His whole picture is carefully finished, and implies an extraordinary amount of thought and observation. . . . The romance contains a love story carried on under conditions of freshness that will inspire envy in the heart of many a novelist."—Globe.

"A vivacious satire, sustained and wrought out with exceptional ingenuity and point."—Scotsman.

"A remarkably clever and entertaining book."—Graffiti.

ROUGH RECOLLECTIONS OF MILITARY SERVICE AND SOCIETY. By Lieut.-Colonel BALCARRES D. WARDLAW RAMSAY. 2 vols., post 8vo, 21s.

These Volumes contain Reminiscences and Anecdotes of H.M. the Queen, the late Prince Consort, the Emperor Napoleon III., the King of Denmark, the King of Italy, the late Victor Emmanuel, the Duke of Wellington, Lord Ellenborough, Lord Dalhousie, Lord Hardinge, Lord Clyde, Lord Cardigan, Sir Richard Airey, Sir Walter Scott, Thackeray, Sir Charles Napier, Lord Lawrence, &c.; with Experiences of Travel on the Continent, in Corsica, and in the East and West Indies.

"Light and lively from beginning to end, they communicate and excite good spirits, good humour, and good nature. . . . They are extremely vivacious, delightfully anecdotal, charmingly pictorial, and replete with sketches of personal peculiarities and characteristics dashed off with genuine artistic ability."—Civil Service Gazette.

"We have endeavoured to show something of the sparkle, the raciness, and the originality which distinguish them, but fragments of such a work can give but a faint idea of it as an artistic whole. It is Boswellian in its minute detail, its happy side-touches, and its irresistible air of truthfulness."—Edinburgh Courant.

BY FELL and FJORD; or, Scenes and Studies in Iceland. By E. J. OSWALD. Post 8vo, with Illustrations, 7s. 6d.

THE JEWS OF BARNOW. Stories by KARL EMIL FRANZOS. Translated by M. W. MACDOWALL. Crown 8vo, 6s.

DICK'S WANDERING. By Julian Sturgis, Author of "Little Comedies," "An Accomplished Gentleman," "John-a-Dreams," 3 vols., post 8vo, 25s. 6d.

"It is replete with all the charm of Mr. Sturgis's writing, tender and subtle, suggestive in the highest degree, and full of knowledge of the finer shades of human nature. . . . We have dwelt at great length on Dick and the opening of his life, because it strikes us that Mr. Sturgis has given us a study of a character very unlike any of the ordinary heroes of novels."—Spectator.

"It reveals a rare gift of character-creation, and a facility for laying off pleasantly satirical pictures of modern life and society. . . . In 'Dick's Wandering' Mr. Sturgis is thoroughly master of his subject, and handles it with proportionate ease and firmness. . . . Dick is as manly a hero as any novel-reader could desire, and the book is enlivened throughout by dramatic episodes and satirical touches."—Scotsman.

"Dick and his friends are such delightful people, they are so full of good temper and good breeding, that to read of them is like spending a holiday in a charming house."—Vanity Fair.

"A novel of genuine humour, power, and interest."—Daily Telegraph.

"With a certain prejudice against his previous works, we must own that here he has written very strongly, fluently, and pleasantly. Mr. Jenkins may be congratulated as the author of the first good French novel in English."—Academy.

"The story is well and amusingly told."—Truth.

"Mr. Jenkins has told his story with great force and brightness. It is dramatic and amusing."—Scotsman.

"We have so often had to condemn the literary work of Mr. Edward Jenkins, that it is a relief to be able, in this case, to do the other thing."—Figaro.

"It is full of incident, personal, social, dramatic, not to say melodramatic. Nor could the most prejudiced reader deny that the story had power, or assert that the style lacked vigour."—Daily News.

"Although it is only a few years since Lange's book was originally published, it already ranks as a classic in the philosophical literature of Germany.
